

- Are you looking for ways to save money on your electric bill?
- Are you looking to reduce your energy consumption?
- Do you want to be more environmentally conscious?
- Do you know how much energy your appliances consume?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you need a power consumption meter in your home.

With the power consumption meter you can determine exactly how much energy you are using. It is designed to read signals from your appliances to determine how much energy each one uses. You might be surprised how much energy an appliance consumes.

With this knowledge you can effectively reduce your power consumption, significantly reduce your electric bill and ultimately help the environment.

Experts are advising that we cut back on energy consumption wherever we can to help America become more energy independent. The first step to being energy independent is to conserve energy by cutting back energy usage.

Every home should have a power consumption meter! Get a power consumption meter installed in your home and start saving energy and money today !
